UP IN A BALLOON!!

THE BIG TRADE ANTICIPATED AT

ANDERSON'S BAZAR

More than realized last week, and Monday's sales were the largest ever made by any house in the Green River Country, and now the great preparations made for Fair week promises to exceed that of all former times. For this purpose an ENTIRE NEW STOCK is now being received and NO REGARD TO PRICES is observed in marking it. The trade visiting Hartford this week must be secured at any sacrifice. The chief attraction will be in

Millinery and Ladies Cloaks!

Which will be sold regardless of cost. Novelties in Ladies' Hats, such as have not yet been seen this Fall, will be displayed. None but fashionable goods will be sold in this Department. If you want to see

FUN IN CLOTHING!

Come to the Bazar During Fair Week

REMEMBER!

This is the only house in this County that sells Walker's and Stark's Boots and Shoes. No other house can get them.

REMEMBER

This is the Only House in this county that buys its wool and has its own Jeans, Linseys, Flannels, Blankets and Yarns manufactured, thus saving middle men's profits.

REMEMBER

This is the only house in this county that sends up 30 feet balloons and gives $10 gold rings to the finders.

REMEMBER!

REMEMBER!

This is the only house in this county where little children can buy goods as cheap as the best judges. The rule "One price to all," has never in a single instance been violated.

REMEMBER

This is the only house in the State in a town no larger than Hartford that is compelled to employ six hands to do its business, which means that people can do better trading here than elsewhere.

REMEMBER

This is the house that saves wholesale dealers profits by having its own clothing manufactured. So don't fail to visit

ANDERSON'S BAZAR

DURING FAIR WEEK.

S. W. ANDERSON, Proprietor.

OUR AGENTS.

The following persons are authorized to receive subscriptions and renewals, advertising in the Herald, orders for work, etc., etc.:
WILLIAM CROWELL, Cincinnati.
EDWARD RILEY, Cincinnati.
DAVID HARRIS, Cincinnati.
JAC. F. SMITH, Jr., Cincinnati.
S. P. HENNING, Cincinnati.
DR. G. H. NIXON, Cincinnati.
WILLIAM MAY, Cincinnati.
J. B. HOCKER, Cincinnati.
V. C. FLOYD, Cincinnati.
V. H. RAINES, Cincinnati.
HON. R. P. HOCKER, Cincinnati.
W. A. GIBSON, Cincinnati.
MRS. NANNIE W. JONES, Cincinnati.

PERSONALS.

Mr. G. T. Oliver, agent and operator at Beaver Dam, was in town Sunday evening.
Mr. D. H. French and wife, of La-grange, are visiting the family of Mr. Z. Wayne Griffin.
Little Lizzie, daughter of Hon. S. E. Hill, has been quite sick the past week and is no better.
Miss Stella Talbot, of Elizabethtown, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Howard, near Sulphur Springs.
Miss Irene Hayes, of "Social Hill," McLean county, is the guest of Mrs. Dr. Miller. She will remain until after the fair.
Mrs. J. H. Marth, and daughter, Miss Ella, of Batavia, N. J., arrived last Friday, and are the guests of Mrs. Mary Thomas.
Miss Mary Humphrey, daughter of Hon. R. E. Humphrey, of Island Station, McLean county, is the guest of Mrs. H. P. Howe.

Mr. J. W. Isaac, representing the wholesale hat house of Totten & Hart, Evansville, is in town taking orders for his house. Jim is a good one.
Mr. T. H. Tanner and wife, friends of our childhood days, have been visiting Mr. J. T. Benton, a family the past week. They gave us the pleasure of a little visit and paid for the Herald another year. Thanks.
No nobler and more genial soul breathes than Judge Walker. He is a splendid lawyer, a fine man, and always a kind friend. Ohio county cannot boast of her good father and this one promises to surpass previous ones.
Hon. E. Dudley Walker and daughter Miss Lizzie, Sept. 30, 1883, arrived at the Hartford House. Call early, as he will remain but a few days.

On Thursday Anderson's Bazaar will get up from the fair ground a balloon, and give to the fair a warrant. It is a $10 gold ring. Keep a look-out for the balloon boys, get the ring and give it to your bright partner.
Born to the wife of T. C. Smith, near Hartford, Sunday, Sept. 30, 1883, a son, weighing 8 and 84 pounds. Attending physician, Dr. J. T. Miller. Mother and children doing well.
Those attending the fair this week need any thing in the line of boots and shoes, would do well to call on L. E. Womner. He keeps all kinds on hand, from an infant's size up to an old lady or old man.
Don't fail to read the Bazaar's big advertisement in today's issue. It means business, and you will save money by going there and picking up some of the bargains they will offer during the week. They have been doing a tremendous business during the last two weeks, and it means something.

Remember you can buy a good sewing machine with cover for $20 at Anderson's Bazaar.
Hon. E. Dudley Walker was called on by the Union Sunday school, last Sunday morning, and responded in an impromptu lecture in a most beautiful manner. His subject was "A mansion in the sky." His description of the building, its maker or builder, its cost, and its object, was one of the finest we have ever heard. Mr. Walker closed by saying: "If I have done no more, I have showed which side I am on." Mr. Walker, although one of the most able lawyers at our bar, has certainly missed his calling, for we never heard such southern and language fall from any minister's tongue. We hope to hear him again in the near future.

We tender our most profound thanks to Mr. Thos. Gilstrap for a large picture, neat and elegantly framed, of his Exchange Emporium, Cincinnati, Ky. Among the throng of visitors at this, the largest dry goods store in Ohio county, you will readily recognize the handsome physique of the proprietor. Again we express our appreciation of this token of remembrance that now ornaments the wall of our saloon. (Gibbs, remember this fascinating, gallant knight is a little timid, but that leap year is near at hand.)

FOR SALE CHEAP.
The largest and best stock of buggies and spring wagons ever brought to Ohio county, also a lot of farm wagons, all of the very best and fully warranted. Call at King's stable and see them.
Now is the time to get a bargain in a buggy or wagon and I want to close out my stock for the season. So come at once and make your purchases.
W. T. KING.

For twenty-five years I have been severely afflicted with hay fever. While I was suffering intensely I was induced, through Mr. Tichenor's testimonial, to try Ely's Cream Balm. The effect was marvellous. It enabled me to perform my pastoral duties without the slightest inconvenience, and I have escaped a return attack. I pronounce Ely's Cream Balm a cure for hay fever.
Wm. P. Carr, Presbyterian Pastor, Elizabethtown, N. J.
One and one-half bottles of Ely's Cream Balm, entirely cured me of hay fever of ten years standing. Have no trace of it for two years. ALBERT A. PERRY, Smithboro, N. Y.
I have used Ely's Cream Balm for hay fever, and experienced great relief. I most cordially recommend it to the best of all the many remedies I have tried. T. B. Jenks, Lawyer, Grand Rapids, Mich. Price fifty cents.

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY FOR PAIN.
Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, AND ALL OTHER PAINFUL AFFECTIONS.
Beware of cheap imitations. The only genuine is the one with the name JACOB'S OIL on the wrapper.

Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, black or brown, fifty cents.
Fresh roasted peanuts at the Red Front.
For a fine overcoat, cheap, go to H. H. Taylor & Co.
Go to Thomas Bros. for Common Sense Fertilizer, $3.00 per ton.
Dr. Bradley was in town Monday attending to professional business.

The bazaar balloon will ascend on Thursday about 3 o'clock in the afternoon.
Red Front carries the nicest stock of oranges, lemons, tomatoes, apples, and cucumbers, in town.
Remember the Red Front has been filled to overflowing with good things to eat.
Anderson's Bazaar will add to the attractions of the fair by contributing an aquarium of gold and silver fish.

Call on Charlie Parrott at the Hartford House and get your drinks. Charlie knows how to fix 'em up. He keeps all of the best brands. Give him a call.
The balloon is on its way, but it is on hand, and the ring also. Look out for the balloon, children.
Remember, every one visiting the fair is especially invited to visit the Red Front, and see the best family grocery in the Green River country.

October 16, is the time Dr. W. B. Armistead, the Owensboro Dentist, will be at the Hartford House. Call early, as he will remain but a few days.

Court of Chancery began Monday, and is still in session.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.
Dr. Bradley is here and will remain Thursday, Friday and Saturday.
Eggs, butter, chickens and turkeys constantly on hand at the Red Front.
Call at H. B. Taylor & Co., and see those fine creameries. They are closing out at cost.
Born to the wife of James Hicks, near Boda, Ky., Sept. 29th, a girl. Dr. Hoover attending physician.

The Ohio County fair begins this morning. Considerable stock has already entered and the prospects are that we will have a good fair.
Born to the wife of George Wilson Hoover, near Boda, Sept. 25th, a boy. Dr. Hoover attending physician.

Remember that R. P. Rowe is getting higher prices for goods now than any merchant in the Green River country.
Married, in Rockport, Ky., Sept. 26, 1883, by Rev. J. T. Casler, Mr. William Ham and Miss Jennie Blevins.
Married, at the residence of the bride's father, in Muhlenberg county, C. B. Rose to Miss Nannie Helmsley.

Two or three large hat boats are now under construction at Hines' mill, by Messrs Smith and Plitt.
Hartford College is progressing finely; new additions each week; in fact the steady increase is beyond the expectation of any one.
The time table on the C. O. and S. W. railroad has been changed. The passenger train going west passes Beaver Dam at 1:15 p. m.; going east at 2:20 p. m.

The receipts for stock shipped from Beaver Dam up to Sept. 15, 1883, is $2,000 more than it was last year at that time.
If you should find the balloon, and the fine ring don't let your sweetheart's finger it will be made to fit. So the Hartford man says.
Mr. R. C. Hardwick will sell at auction at the fair ground, Saturday evening, all his queensware used in his dining hall.

Dr. W. B. Armistead, the Owensboro Dentist, will be at the Hartford House, October 16, 1883, prepared to do all kinds of dental work. He will remain but a few days.

Keep a look-out for the balloon, little children, it is likely to drop on your papa's farm as any where else, and the Bazaar man will give you the handsome gold ring you ever saw if you will find and bring it to him.

Herbert Sanders, son of Dr. G. R. Sanders, left for Kansas City on the 25th, where he will spend several months with his uncle, Jim Campbell, and attend school while there.
Miss Bettie Perkins, of Central City, is visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity.
The school at Walton's creek is being conducted by G. T. Tinsley. He has a very good school.

A. Lee Rowe, formerly of this place, now of Island Station, gave us a call last week.

On Sunday morning, Sept. 24, 1883, Ida Carter, youngest child of Charles and Jane Carter, aged nine months and nine days, was called to her quiet home above.

Ida was a bright little ornament in the family. Her bright face and intelligent look drew the attention of all who knew her. She was a lovely little babe, too pure and too innocent for this world.

Food parents, it was a hard struggle to give little Ida up, but do not grieve for she is at rest; she will never have the troubles to encounter which you have; she has gone to join her two little brothers that had gone before.

Funerals, your little has left you, but dry your tears and do not weep. For now she is an angel true. And has only fallen asleep.

James Tinsley's funeral was preached on Sunday, 21st inst., by Rev. Caseler in a large congregation.
Wm. Ham was married to Miss Jennie Blevins, of this place, on Wednesday last. Rev. J. T. Casler officiating.
The work on the new railroad bridge will commence soon. They intend building an iron draw. The contract has been closed at $90,000.

Trade has been unusually brisk for the past few days. The merchants have collected their full stocks. There is a heavy competition, consequently cheap goods.
Our flouring mill, under the management of John Tinsley, is being run to its full capacity and giving entire satisfaction.

Quite a number of our citizens have attended the Exposition.
Mrs. Ex-Gov. King, of Missouri, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. S. A. Jackson.
Prof. G. W. Short has a large and interesting school. The professor is giving universal satisfaction.
The steamboats are very irregular owing to the remarkable low water.

Virgil Ward has been quite sick. Dr. W. B. Armistead will move within a few days to Madisonville, where he will engage in the practice of medicine. We regret to lose him.
Very little sickness in this vicinity.

Mrs. David Carter and daughter left last week for Texas where they anticipate making their future home.

Mr. J. S. Vaughn, the courteous and obliging proprietor of the mail stage from Hartford to Beaver Dam, tenders a complimentary pass to and from, to all station agents, operators and others employed on the C. O. & S. W. railroad, and is willing to attend the fair. Don't fail to come, as grand preparations have been made for a splendid time.

James Porter was born near Ballinsboro, Md., Sept. 30, 1798, and died on his farm three miles west of Pottsville, Ohio county, Ky., Aug. 30, 1883; aged 84 years and 11 months. In the year 1815 he came to Nelson county Ky. February 6th, 1827, he married Miss Greenhouse. Of ten children, five sons and five daughters, six survive him. He has one son living in Ohio county, and two single daughters live on his farm. One of his sons was a member of the Sixth Kentucky Volunteer Infantry, and was killed at the battle of Stone River. Mr. Porter was a man that took but little interest in public affairs, and was seldom seen from home except on business.

Died, at her home near Pottsville, this county, Tuesday, Aug. 30, 1883, of flux, Eulah, daughter of G. A. and F. E. Weller, aged 7 months and 22 days. The body was interred in the Godsey grave yard in Berea cemetery.

Died, at his home on the Hartford and Hardinsburg road, near Rosson's store, this county, Saturday, Sept. 8th, 1883, of flux, Charlie, infant son of James and Sallie P. Carden, aged 5 months and 8 days. This babe was sick but five days, when the disease terminated in death. On the morning of the 9th his remains were laid in the John Pottsville grave yard at Pottsville. Safe to the arms of Jesus.

There is a loss of our schoolmate, sweetly thy Charlie does rest.

Men were brought face to face who had not seen each other for years, and who lived in different counties and states. Tears coming down many cheeks proclaimed the fullness and joy of the heart. Old scenes, trials, privations and misadventures were all forgotten, and the dearest of friends were reunited. The dearest of friends were reunited. The dearest of friends were reunited.

The school at Walton's creek is being conducted by G. T. Tinsley. He has a very good school.

O. & S. W. railroad, and is willing to attend the fair. Don't fail to come, as grand preparations have been made for a splendid time.

James Porter was born near Ballinsboro, Md., Sept. 30, 1798, and died on his farm three miles west of Pottsville, Ohio county, Ky., Aug. 30, 1883; aged 84 years and 11 months. In the year 1815 he came to Nelson county Ky. February 6th, 1827, he married Miss Greenhouse. Of ten children, five sons and five daughters, six survive him. He has one son living in Ohio county, and two single daughters live on his farm. One of his sons was a member of the Sixth Kentucky Volunteer Infantry, and was killed at the battle of Stone River. Mr. Porter was a man that took but little interest in public affairs, and was seldom seen from home except on business.

Died, at her home near Pottsville, this county, Tuesday, Aug. 30, 1883, of flux, Eulah, daughter of G. A. and F. E. Weller, aged 7 months and 22 days. The body was interred in the Godsey grave yard in Berea cemetery.

Died, at his home on the Hartford and Hardinsburg road, near Rosson's store, this county, Saturday, Sept. 8th, 1883, of flux, Charlie, infant son of James and Sallie P. Carden, aged 5 months and 8 days. This babe was sick but five days, when the disease terminated in death. On the morning of the 9th his remains were laid in the John Pottsville grave yard at Pottsville. Safe to the arms of Jesus.

"Mr. Sheridan talks about the Republican tariff and the Democratic tariff, as two distinct things. So they are, and let us see at once the distinction between them.
The Republican tariff is a tariff for protection with incidental revenue. And the Democratic tariff is a tariff for revenue with incidental protection. There is no disputing the verity of this proposition.

The Republican protective tariff has collected annually for several years past from one hundred to one hundred and fifty million dollars more revenue than was needed for expenses of the government, leading to bloated extravagance and corruption. As protection was the object and not revenue, the amount raised was not proportioned to the necessary requirements of the government, and therefore revenue was only incidental, and hence the large overplus. It has been made a boast that the Republican tariff was a tariff for protection with incidental revenue.

Now, examine the wide difference between this and the Democratic tariff. The Democratic tariff system is a tariff for revenue, limited to the amount of the expenses of the government. The government economically administered, and adjusted with a view to equality in the public burdens, and also to incidental protection to home products by industry and labor, without protecting monopolies.

When the Democrats were in power twenty-two years ago, the annual expenses of the Federal Government did not exceed sixty-five million dollars. Now, under Republican misrule they exceed three hundred million a year. The expenses of the government are so large now, that the mere incidental protection which can be afforded would be abundantly sufficient to afford all the protection which even the most fastidious and monopolists ever thought of demanding in past years, and far more than the best interests of the country require.

There certainly is not any Constitutional authority for a tariff for mere protection without regard to revenue. A tariff for revenue is authorized, and that is necessarily limited to the expenses of the government.

First, revenue is its object.
Second—It is limited to the expenses of the government economically administered.
Third—It is adjusted with a view to equality in the public burdens.

Fourth—It affords incidental protection to home products by industry and labor whenever necessary and practical, without protecting monopolies, or giving unjust advantages to any.
Let intelligent and fair-minded men compare the two tariffs. The differences are as follows:

First—The Republican tariff does not limit the burden it imposes to the expenses of the government economically administered, but goes hundred of millions of dollars over them.
Second—The Republican tariff is not adjusted with a view to equality in the public burdens.

Third—And the Republican tariff is not a revenue measure within the authority of the Constitution, but a measure to build up monopolies by taxing the many for the benefit of the few.

Heart Disease

CURED BY

Dr. Rush's Regulator.

FOR HEART TROUBLES.

Wm. H. Hedges, the well known safe manufacturer of Buffalo, Philadelphia, Philadelphia, Newark and Albany, N.Y., says:

Office of Hedges & Sons, 178, Broad Street,
Albany, N.Y., October 17, 1901.

To: Rush's Medical Association:

Dear Sirs:—The three bottles of "Dr.
Rush's Regulator" I ordered were received by express last week. I have taken nearly one bottle and am feeling much better than I have for some time. I have been troubled with heart pain at my heart. My physician, upon examination, found a enlargement of the heart and was unable to give me any relief. The trouble grew worse until I had become convinced that I could not be cured. While in New York city last week I called upon one of the most prominent physicians there, who charged me $25 for an examination and then recommended your "Regulator." Knowing you to be a regular Medical Association, and a patient medicine, I ordered the three bottles.
I have not been troubled since I commenced taking it, but still continue and take the entire three bottles as a preventive of a permanent cure. You have my sincere thanks.
Yours, very respectfully,
Wm. H. Hedges.

Dr. Rush's Regulator

has never failed to give relief. It has been used successfully for years in relieving the most stubborn cases of heart difficulties.
A positive cure for enlargement of the heart, fluttering and fatty degeneration of the heart. Price $1.00 per bottle. $3.00 for three bottles. Sent by express, collect.

Rush's Medical Association,
178, Broad Street, Albany, N.Y.

Beaver Dam Notes.

Editor Herald:

No wheat ground broken yet. The crop will be late sown and small acreage.

Most farmers are done cutting tomatoes, which is small and light.

The demand for time chest is large and increasing, but the supply is exhausted, and farmers will be disappointed in getting a supply for wheat.

Mr. Smith representing the "Common Sense Fertilizer Company," of Louisville, was here a few days ago endeavoring to introduce the common sense fertilizer. It would be well for some of the farmers to give it a trial and test its efficiency. Any one wishing to order can do so through Baker &
Co., Beaver Dam.

Some changes in the business firms have been made at this place. R. H.
Austin, formerly of Stroudtown, has taken charge of the local mail shop at this place, and will do a general smitting business. W. A. Austin, the former smith here, has taken an interest in the general grocery, hardware and furniture store of E. O. Austin, and the same will be changed and run under the firm name of E. O. Austin & Co.
Louisville. Stevens, has sold out his livery stable to L. P. Bantam and Geo.
Stevens. Messrs. W. H. Miranda and William Jones, formerly of Indiana and recently of this place, have returned to the Hoosier State.

J. M. Peters has completed a neat little residence on a big parcel of L.
P. Bantam.

William Mercer, Sr., recently returned from a visit to England, the home of his youth, and from which he had been absent 23 years. He went to visit a sick brother, who, many years ago, went to Australia, and who had been supposed to be dead until recently.
Mr. Mercer reports that many changes have been made in the old country since he left, nearly a third of a century ago, and many grand improvements are to be seen.

Mr. R. B. Stevens, son of our neighbor, R. H. Stevens, is now here on a visit to parents and friends. He went to Texas nearly four years ago, and unlike many of our boys went through the home school common to such emigrants, and he has been a permanent citizen of the Lone Star State. His visit will be of but short duration, after which he will return to his home in the town of Mineral Mills, of which place he is City Marshal, Assessor and Tax Collector. His many friends and relatives here extend him a hearty welcome.

Our enterprising neighbor, H. Taylor, shipped a car load of fat cattle from this place to Louisville a few days ago.
Mr. Henry Whaling, of Butler county, shipped a fine car load of cattle from here on Saturday last.

Messrs. Potter & Condit are having a fine lot of lumber landed to the railroad here for shipment to Louisville. It looks like business to see the long line of wagons coming in so early with their loads of lumber.

Messrs. Clark, Austin & Simpson are handling an immense quantity of coal to Hartford from the Annapolis Austin Mine can by W. R. Stewart. It is a very superior coal, and Mr. Stewart is doing a fine business.

Mr. John P. Rogers is now engaged in sawing a large lot of white oak lumber to be used with the railroad company.

Several of our citizens have just returned from a visit to the big X at Louisville. They report a big time and a world of people.

Two little sons and a daughter of our neighbor, Dan J. Rhoads, are right sick with measles fever. Dr. J. J. Mitchell attending.

Several of our citizens went out yesterday to State Creek where Dr. J. S.
Coleman preached the funeral of L. C.
Stephen S. Taylor deceased. A large congregation was gathered, and Dr.
Coleman preached a strong impressive sermon. The all of us enjoyed the holding spell found the large audience, pleasing to its utmost capacity the very large church house.

To the Memory of Willie Hoke.

It was with regret that we saw the notice of the death of Wm. Hoke, which took place the 21st of September, 1881, in Louisville, at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Sam Chaver.

Willie Hoke, as he is familiarly known in Hartford, spent a great portion of his boyhood at his grand-mother's, Mrs. Mary Peyton. With an intimate association with the family during the time his father was being burned, childhood is to know better than any one else of his good and noble qualities. He was generous, a firm, firm and unchanging in his friendship and life long in his attachments. I'm right to his every motive, reliable in all things and true to his promises. For the last few years he attended school at Annapolis, Md., and aspired to himself with the highest honors. Then hard it seems that one so promising should be taken away. Hard indeed the blow must be to his mother whose privilege I hope were in her noble and kindly way, the staff she expected to recline on in later years. The relatives have our tenderest sympathy. It is a joy unspeakable to know that these we much respect have only passed to a higher life, and we by confidence are enabled to say:

"There is no death. A moment born,
Weakened there, it withers away,
And then we see it in the clouds."

It was a general hand shaking. The assembly brought up many pleasant, as well as sad reminiscences of the past.

Caesar's Feast.

In ancient days when Caesar's fame was spread abroad in every home, With pomp and pride he did proclaim That the roads all pointed to Rome; And we, with cheek, would boldly say As much as Caesar said, or more, That all the roads of the present day Point to the mammoth Exchange store.

Editor Herald:

The weather remains so dry the farmers have made no preparations for wheat.

Mr. Susan Drake, of Island Station paid her brother, Uncle Abe Jago, a visit last week. She was accompanied by her son, Ben F.

Editor Herald:

The place was a lovely grove, well adapted for the occasion, on a gentle slope. It looked like everybody was there—old men leaning upon their canes, the middle aged and young of both sexes, all anxious and impatient to see everybody and hear everything. It was a general hand shaking. The assembly brought up many pleasant, as well as sad reminiscences of the past.

Herbert Sanders, son of Dr. G. H. Sanders, left for Kansas City on the 28th, where he will spend several months with his uncle, Jim Campbell, and attend school while there.

Miss Bettie Perkins, of Central City, is visiting in- and out relatives in this vicinity.

The school at Walton's creek is being conducted by G. T. Tinsley. He has a very good school.

A. Leo Rowe, formerly of this place, now of Island Station, gave us a call last week.

Obituary.

On Sunday morning, Sept. 24, 1883, Ida Carter, youngest child of Charles and Jane Carter, aged nine months and nine days, was called to her quiet home above.

Ida was a bright little ornament in the family. Her bright face and intelligent look drew the attention of all who knew her. She was a lovely little babe, too pure and too innocent for this world.

Fond parents, it was a hard struggle to give little Ida up, but do not grieve.

Men were brought face to face who had not seen each other for years, and who lived in different counties and states. Tears coursing down manly cheeks proclaimed the fullest and joy of the heart. Old friends, trials, privations and hardships were all forgotten. The deeds of heroism and kindness of those who sleep their last sleep in known and unknown graves upon the tented battle-field for away were recalled and talked over. It was a pleasing sight even to those who were not active participants to witness the actions of this great throng of soldiers, kindred and friends. There were thousands in attendance, and the fullest sufficiency of facilities for them and many more was prepared, and of a character such as only "Old Kentucky" can prepare on such occasions. Beauty and bravery were there. The survivors of the gallant Noel's command extended the invitation to other confederates, many of whom put in their appearance. A large majority of the soldiers, though boys, men in the meridian or on the western side of life's hill, honorable and brave men performing their lives duties in all the most useful lives. We had
